Telephony

What is Telephony?

As a seller, you rely on phone calls to communicate with prospects and customers. But when your calls and sales are separate, you can't measure the effectiveness of your calls and how they affect your sales, or even track who you called. By integrating your PBX with Zoho CRM, your team can make and receive calls directly from your sales software and compare the outcome of each call with quotes. They also have call logs with fewer than entries per record, so you never lose track of past conversations.

Why Telephony?

- To improve your followup rate
- To measure tele calling team efficiency
- To log and review call details and recording
- To stop data leakage
- To reduce workload by routing calls to specific department

How Zoho can help you with Telephony?

- Connect your service provider to make calls from the Zoho CRM app
- Autolog calls under each record
- Update call status, and save notes for calls
- Automate scheduling calls and post-call activities
- Get reminders for both upcoming and missed calls
- Single-click dialing
- Call analytics

Telephony Features?

- Virtual Number
- Toll Free Number
- Intercom
- Auto Dialler
